CRAZY FATHER WAS KILLED.

W. H. White Was Slain By His Son On Last Thursday.

YOUNG MAN CLEARED.

An Unfortunate Parricide That Should Have Been Avoided.

Henry B. White was killed by his son, J. Ed White, Wednesday afternoon near Casy. Brief mention of the tragedy was made in our last issue, but details have since been received.

The elder White owned a farm on the Bradshaw road, 4½ miles from town, a part of the Greenestate. He had been to Casy in the early part of the afternoon and returned home about 3 o'clock. He went to the barn where his son, his son-in-law Ed Hays and a negro named Abe Gant were at work. The old man's mind had been impaired for some time and when he came in it was seen that he was in a "spell" and was very violent and irritable.

The direct cause of the trouble was some bundles of old smoking tobacco that had been left in the barn.

The old man claimed that part of this tobacco was gone and accused his son of giving it away. The latter denied this and told him of some people he had himself given some of the tobacco to. This incensed him still more and he drew a knife and threatened to kill his son. Finally he collared the boy and hit him with his fist, flourishing the knife. The boy succeeded in pulling away and ran out of the barn. Hays and Gant tried to pacify White but he ran at them and seizing an axe pursued the boy out in the lot and finally hemmed him behind a spring-wagon and was advancing upon him when the boy shot. The first shot struck his left arm and the other two entered his left breast, one piercing the heart and producing instant death.

Judge W. L. Parker was sent for and held an inquest.

M. B. King, J. T. Garrett, T. W. Garrett, R. L. Moseley, W. A. Burt and Trice Shepherd were empanelled as a jury. Ed Hays and Abe Gant both fully corroborated the story of Ed White as given herein and the jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide.

Why the young man happened to be working with a pistol in his pocket and why he didn't go away when he escaped from the barn and leave the crazy old man are the points not explained. Why the three able-bodied men present did not disarm the old man and bring him to town to be tried for lunacy is another question that needs explanation. Henry B. White was 70 years old and a Confederate veteran. He was a hard working old man and deserved a better fate than to be killed by his own son. He is survived by a wife, two daughters and one other son besides Ed White. All live in this county. The body was buried Thursday afternoon in Riverside Cemetery.

Ed White is 25 years old and unmarried. He had not been arrested and as far as we know he is the County Judge the inquest partook of the nature of an examining trial and no further action is likely to be taken.

It's Now Judge Denton.

Mr. John M. West has resigned as police judge of Crofton and Mr. W. E. Denton was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Two Go To Pen.

Two white men, Will Franklin and Will Franklin, tried and convicted on the charge of house-breaking in circuit court, just adjourned, will be taken to the penitentiary at Eddyville to-day or Monday. Their sentence was one year each. One of them claimed to be from Nashville, and the other from Louisville.

MANY PRANKS ON HALLOWE'EN

Usual Observance of the Date With Many Deeds of Order.

SWINGS ARE UPTURNED.

Some of the Remaining Gates Are Taken Away.

The boys of the city were up to their usual pranks the night before November first, as has been their custom for several years.

Not many gates are left in the city, but some of these were taken off and carried away.

Many lawn swings were overturned and settees were hung in trees.

Similar pranks, comparatively harmless, were committed all over town.

In a few instances there were acts of real vandalism. One of these was the demolition of Maj. J. O. Ferrell's fence. The school boys who were out early in the night deny that this was done by their crowd. They say no real damage was done by them to property.

The fish box of Martin, the fish dealer, was carried far from his business and the top taken off.

A wire was stretched across South Main street and several people fell over it and were more or less injured.

John Combe's gate was taken from his place on South Virginia and has not yet been found.

Court Adjourned.

But little was done in Circuit Court Friday. A motion for a new trial in the case of Mercer vs. Mercer was overruled. Routine business consumed the better part of the morning and in the afternoon a little more routine work was done, when the six weeks session was closed.

Death of Baby.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gillard, who live in the north-eastern part of the city, on Greenville street, died Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. The little fellow contracted cold, which finally developed into pneumonia which caused his death. Burial took place Friday afternoon in Riverside Cemetery.

J. H. BELL, SR., DIED WEDNESDAY

Peacefully Passed Away In His Eighty-Second Year.

BURIED ON THURSDAY.

Honored Representative of One of the County's Pioneer Families.

After a long illness Mr. John H. Bell, Sr., died at his home on East Seventh street Wednesday evening at seven o'clock, in the 82nd year of his age.

He was one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Hopkinsville having lived here for a quarter of a century. He was one of three devoted brothers, all far beyond the allotted age of three score years and ten. They were sons of Dr. John F. Bell, one of the pioneer doctors of the county, good old Virginia stock of Irish descent. Deceased was the eldest of these brothers, the others being Capt. Darwin Bell and Capt. C. D. Bell.

He was born April 27, 1826, and was married in March, 1849, to Miss Mary Susan Garth, who was his devoted helpmate for 54 years. She died Nov. 14, 1903, and her memory will long be treasured for the good deeds she did. Mr. Bell's decline in health dates back to the death of his beloved wife. He was gradually grew feeble and three months ago took to bed and sank peacefully to the end. He was a gentleman by birth, by instinct and by education. Courteous and urbane in his manners, of the highest sense of integrity, honorable, upright and just, he commanded the respect of all who knew him. He was a devout member of the Christian church and lived a consistent and commendable life, held in highest esteem by a host of friends.

The funeral services were held at the family residence at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, conducted by Rev. H. D. Smith. The pall-bearers were Messrs. H. D. Wallace, John Stites, T. W. Long, F. W. Dabney, S. E. Chastain, T. L. Metcalfe, Jno. B. Trice and L. C. Cravens. The burial was at Riverside cemetery.

Mr. Bell's surviving children are Dr. Darwin E. Bell, of Grassy; A. G. Bell, of Louisville; Webb C. Bell, John H. Bell, Jr., and Misses Addie Bell and Jessie Bell, of this city; Mrs. Kitty Campbell, of Fresno, Cal.; Mrs. John F. Bible, of Iona, Michigan, and Frank Bell, of Texas.

ADDED 113 NAMES:

To the City Registration Lists—Total 1,728.

The supplemental registration closed Wednesday night at 9 o'clock, with the addition of 125 names to the lists. Of these 12 were in the county and 113 in the city. The 12 in the county towns were distributed as follows: Pembroke 5 white, 3 colored; Crofton, Lafayette, Gracey and Fairview each one white.

The city precincts were added to as follows:

No.	W.	C.	D.	R.	Ind.	Total
1.	12	10	10	12		22
2.	4	18	4	18		22
3.	25	1	23	3		26

BARN BURNED AFTER REFUSAL

Of Daviess County Grower To Pool His Crop of Tobacco.

MCLEAN ALSO INVADED

Farmers Not Equity Members Are Said to Be Arming.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 1.—The tobacco barn of William Green, a Daviess county grower, who had refused to pool his tobacco with the American Society of Equity, was burned Tuesday night. The situation is becoming serious in Daviess and farmers who have not pooled their tobacco are said to be arming themselves. The "Army of Peace," will start on another tour of the county to-morrow.

The McLean county army organized and visited the offices of buyers at Livermore and Calhoun. The Livermore buyer was out, but John Ramsey was found at Calhoun. He said that he would not buy any more tobacco at present, but would go back into the market when he needed more tobacco. He agreed to resell contracts if growers would make oath that they had been in timidity and wished to pool their crops.

At Shelbyville the Burley Society endorsed the action of the Winchester district convention in declaring against the planting of a crop next year and the National Tobacco Growers' Association will probably take similar action.

MARRIAGE IN TRIGG.

Groom Relative of Mr. W. S. Wade.

Mr. William Edward Wade, a cousin of Mr. W. S. Wade, of this city, and Miss Alice Lawrence, of near Cadiz, were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's father, James Lawrence, Wednesday. Rev. B. L. Yates performed the ceremony. The groom is a son of Mr. Peter Wade.

RED LIGHT DISTRICT.

Indinapolis Visited By A Delegation of Ministers.

A number of Indianapolis ministers recently took a trip through the red light district of that city in company with Chief Police Metzger. The ministers were entertained at some of the resorts by piano and guitar music, and at one place an inmate sang "The Holy City," much to their enjoyment and surprise.

The party started out in an automobile and when they had reached the first of the resorts their mission became known. Telephone messages informed the other keepers that "ministers of the gospel" were out seeing the sights and every one should be on their good behavior.

When other places were visited the inmates were all modestly attired and not an objectionable word was uttered during the evening.

The ministers questioned the inmates closely about their manner of life and induced a friendly interest, but avoided homilies or any words of reprobation and when they left they were cordially invited to come again.

In the resorts where the ministers were entertained with music the songs were selected with special reference to the sacred calling of the guests, and the preachers confided after the tour was over that they were probably disappointed at the absence of anything bordering on ribaldry or mockery of religion.

CITY WINS BANK SUIT.

Circuit Court Decides In Favor Of City Of Hopkinsville.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK.

Case Will Go Up To The Court Of Appeals In January.

The case of the First National Bank against the City of Hopkinsville, to recover $450 in taxes paid in 1906 because the bank was not allowed any deduction in the assessment for the $50,000 government bonds held by the bank. The bank sued to recover all but $150, a part of the tax on real estate. The case was heard Wednesday night and the court held that there was no equity in the claim of the bank, that its capital was worth $80,000 at least and it had not been assessed for more than $60,000. The suit was in the nature of an excessive assessment. The suit followed a decision rendered by Judge O'Rear in January 1906 the Court of Appeals held in that decision for the first time that National banks were entitled to a deduction for the amount of government bonds owned. Other suits like this are pending over the State. The court also held that the bank should have made its complaint before the state board of equalization within the time allowed by law.

The city was represented by City Attorney J. W. Bright and by F. B. B. F. The bank by Downer & Russell. The case will be appealed to the January docket of the court of appeals. A similar suit against the county is also pending in the court above.

BARNETT.

About ten days ago Cicero M. Barnett, a Republican politician of Ohio county, Kentucky, chairman of the Republican state central committee in the Taylor-Goebel campaign of 1899, went to Indianapolis and had himself elected the official head of the American Society of Equity. The man who had built up the A. S. of E. was anxious to hold on, but the word had evidently been passed around among the Republican members in Northern States that the election of Barnett would give him a chance to start some eve-of-election fireworks in Kentucky that might defeat the Democratic ticket. No sooner was Barnett electing as the head of this great organization, made up in Kentucky almost entirely of Democrats, than he hurried home and there started out from his own county an army of invasion into other counties, many one set of Democrats conduct house to house canvassed to intimidate, antagonize and exasperate other Democrats within less than a week of the election. Has it not occurred to these dupes that they are just so many danvers for the enemies of the Democratic party? Barnett is one of the smoothest articles to be found in the Republican party in Kentucky. It doubtless occurred to him that it would be a shrewd political move to array Democrats against each other on a business question engrossing public attention a week before the election. His party, already beaten, had nothing to lose and everything to gain by a trick properly turned.

Democrats carrying guns for each other on the tobacco question are not apt to fight enthusiastically for the same cause on election day. A hundred mad, sure or disgruntled voters in each county, staying away from the polls, might defeat a Democratic nominee. A committee to wait upon the Democratic candidate in each county and force a public commitment from him would not strengthen him before a divided constituency. Barnett no doubt fore-saw all this and accordingly got busy at the earliest possible moment, making Democrats do his bidding at the risk of defeating their own party and inciting a bloody riot in the end. An army coming from the direction of Ohio county invaded Daviess county. Another army is over-running McLean county. The same thing is happening in Webster, Henderson and Union counties and if the excitement and hard feeling can be kept up three days longer this schemer, who plays politics first and other things as a side line, may succeed in defeating two or three Senators, a dozen representatives and perhaps the Democratic State ticket. The same kind of trouble has been stirred up in the central counties, and the master hand of Cicero Barnett may be behind it all. Democrats, be warned in time. If you must fight each other, wait until after the election. Don't shoot each other until after you have voted the Democratic ticket.

BODY PRESERVED

And Marble Like Features
Still Recognizable:

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 1.—When the body of Mrs. Margaret Brishy, who was buried in 1856 in the old Lutheran cemetery, was disinterred for removal to the Lexington cemetery, today it was found that the features of the dead woman were still recognizable and that the white lace cap on the head of the corpse was perfectly preserved and was as neat and fresh in appearance as it was when placed in the coffin more than 50 years ago. The remarkable preservation is attributed to the protection of the metallic casket, which was hermetically sealed.

Farmers, mechanics, railroadmen, laborers rely on Dr. Thomas' Electric oil. Takes the sting out of cuts, burns or bruises at once. Pain car-not where it is used.

Paderewski as Farmer.

His passion for country life has led Mr. Paderewski, the famous pianist, to establish a farm on his estate in Poland, where, between his tours, he occupies his time in raising livestock and growing vegetables and fruit. Showed a previous visit to the country Paderewski, through an agent, bought some prime pigs from a farmer in Essex who was quite unaware of the real profession of the purchaser. A day or two later Paderewski visited the farm with his wife, disclosing his identity. The farmer, who had never heard of the pianist, led the pianist to a sty and showed him a fine lot of pigs, remarking confidentially: "Do you see those? I have sold them to Mr. Paderewski, the great pig dealer from abroad."

"All In" Judicially Defined.

In the case of state vs. Hennessey, (see last page), the Nevada Supreme Court gives a definition of the legal phrase "all in." The question came up in connection with the admission in evidence of a dying declaration, the declarant's statement that he was "all in" being relied on to show that he was under a sense of imminent death. The court, in its opinion, said: "All in" in one frequent sense made use of this western country, and when used under the circumstances in question may, we think, be taken to have meant that the speaker considered his life was practically at an end."

The Grave of Admiral de Ternay.

The last resting place of Admiral de Ternay, who commanded the French fleet which fought the English in the early part of the war of the revolution, is in Trinity churchyard, Newport, R. I. The grave is marked by a large marble slab. In the vestibule of the church is a marble monument with an inscription in Latin which was erected in 1794 by the French government, and which last 50 years was restored and placed in the church by the United States government, congress making a special appropriation for the purpose.

Sheriff David Smith's office has been the busiest place in town during the week up to a late hour Thursday night. People in the country especially had delayed coming to town and paying their taxes for 1907 and from every section they came in large numbers to escape the 6 per cent. penalty, which went into effect at 12 o'clock Thursday night. During the week up to Thursday night the amount received by Sheriff Smith for taxes, in round numbers, was $45,000. Thursday $12,000 was paid.

The 6 per cent. penalty is now on, and if delinquents will call and pay what they are owing only the principal and 6 per cent. will be collected. After the fifteenth of the present month there will be an additional cast added to taxes and penalty. This is the County Clerk's fee. Everything a man has is liable for taxes, and the sooner taxes are paid the better. There's no use talking about the 6 per cent. penalty being unconstitutional—the law is in force and there is no remedy.

CITY TAX.

City tax collector H. C. Moore has also had a very busy time for four days of this week. There was not such a rush as there is at the sheriff's office, but Mr. Moore and his assistants have waited on hundreds, the bulk of the business, however, was done on the first three days of the week. Mr. Moore said yesterday that he had not made his additions for this week's receipts and could not approximate the amount. He said that Thursday was not as busy as the other days and the amount paid in the way of city taxes was less than $3,000. He is well up in his collections for the year, however, and it is probable that the delinquent list this year will be unprecedentedly short.

Walking on Water.

Walking on water was accomplished a year ago by W. H. Lloyd, an English naval pensioner. The apparatus has been improved and now consists of a pair of canvas-covered boots, about four feet long, with a large rubber rudder—controlled by lines attached round the waist—attached to elastic and adjustable straps on the bottom of each to aid in keeping the balance. In a late test the inventor walked with and against a running stream at about two miles an hour.

Peanut Meal is Good.

Peanut meal has been for a long time a staple article in the dietary of the poor in Spain. Bread made from peanut meal is light and porous, but it is said to be undesirable because of its persistent poppy-like taste. Rice bread containing 25 per cent. of peanut meal cannot be distinguished from ordinary rice bread, while far more nutritious. Skim milk cheese is the only ordinary article of diet comparable to peanut meal in percentage of nitrogenous matter.

Harnessing the Rhine.

A great project has been formed for utilizing the waters of the Rhine for electric power. A company is to be formed with a capital of one-half a quarter million dollars to construct a barrage about 450 feet long near Lieden, together it is proposed to extract from the river power equal to 42,000 horses, which will constitute the most powerful hydraulic installation in Europe.

"It Pays to Advertise."

The merchant who believes that advertising is just throwing away money, is likely to hold on to it when there is any competition to meet. He might succeed in running a crossroad store in some pioneer country, but he has little place in the business world where it is essential that up-to-date methods be employed.

I learned from a professional, when I saw setting cookies to bake on the bottoms of pans turned upside down. The reason for the upside-down method was to prevent burning. I have done it ever since and never had a scorched cake.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

BAD WEATHER IS PREDICTED

Rain, Sleet And Some Snow
Predicted For This Month.

SAYS THE REV. HICKS.

Much Open Weather And Rainfall Will Be Light.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 1.—Rev. Irl R. Hicks predicts several stormy periods during the Month of November. A reactionary storm period is central on the 5th, 6th and 7th. Rain will turn to sleet and snow in the North. A regular storm period is central on the 12th, extending from the 10th to the 15th. Change to warmer, with autumnal storms. A reactionary storm period follows on the 18th, 19th and 20th. This period will bring falling barometer, with rise of temperature, followed by rain and possibly snow. Change to much colder about the 10th to 22nd. The next regular storm period extends from the 22nd to the 26th. Look for higher temperature and rain, turning to snow North and West. High barometer and change to colder, frost and freezing will follow the disturbances of this period. November will go out with rain, and possibly lightning and thunder southward, with rapid change to colder heading down from the northwest with the incoming of December. Much fair and open weather will alternate with storm periods. The rainfall will be light.

BUYS AND SELLS REAL ESTATE

Does General Buckner Represent Sentiment Among Old Confederates?

Having been very consistently a supporter of Republican platforms and Southern honors put upon his shoulders in the days when he was 1896, or perhaps since he left the Executive office at Frankfort in 1891, which was the last year in which he drew pay from the State of Kentucky as a Democratic official of the Commonwealth, Gen. S. B. Buckner, of Hart county, last week addressed to the public his eleventh annual letter giving his reasons for not this year giving his support (his one vote), to the public which so signally honored him during his active life and down to the days of old age. One not informed as to the political record of Gen. Buckner might imagine from the general tone of his communication of this year that he was just at the parting of the ways with the Democratic party, and that he was just preparing to withdraw from its support, taking with him an imaginary host of old Confederate soldiers, men who had stood by the party in its darkest hours in Kentucky and the Southland, and that it was painful for him to part but that his conscience and his duty to his State impelled him to do so, and to take the step at this particular time. As said, one unacquainted with Gen. Buckner's record might reach this conclusion, but there are few men of intelligence in Kentucky who do not know something of his record, and that this simulating Democracy upon his part is but a Republican mask and a cloak under which he thinks he can the better work among the most faithful class of Kentuckians, the soldiers of the Lost Cause. Annually, whenever he thinks he can serve the Republican cause, he breaks out in an open letter to the people with whom he has not come in personal contact for a dozen or more years, and only

CARE OF TABLE LINEN.

Here Is Truly Where a "Stitch in Time" Does Wonders.

Too little attention is paid to the wear and tear on tablecloths and napkins. They are washed, rinsed and ironed and put away, regardless of the places that are becoming thin and worn until these spots become holes and it suddenly dawns on the dismayed housekeeper that her table linen is "going all to pieces."

If tiny holes are found in table linen the first thing to do is to darn them neatly, using a needle and thread or three or four cotton bats suited to the material to be darned, using as fine a needle as possible. If the material is much worn it is best to lay a piece of the same under the thin place and darn down upon it. This gives strength, though it does not look quite as neat as it would without the extra piece of material beneath. A ragged tear always must have an extra piece beneath.

A Good Suggestion.

Often and often you have stood by the kitchen table laboriously trying to clean the silk garments. Of course you know just how difficult this can be at times, especially when the silk is deeply imbedded. Have a small brush for this purpose—the vegetable brush will do—and you will be delighted in finding how much more quickly you can accomplish the work. Another good suggestion is to use the seeds to "snuff" beans which are used for drying. This process is done more rapidly than when one takes the time to tediously perform the work by hand.

Eggs Baked in Tomatoes.

Cut the tops from as many firm tomatoes as you desire. Remove the centers for each portion to be served—remove the centers with a knife or spoon, sprinkle generously with salt and set in the oven until partly cooked. Remove from the oven and carefully break a fresh egg into each tomato, sprinkle with salt and pepper and add to each a small lump of butter. Return to the oven until the eggs are baked. Serve immediately.

Old-Fashioned "Sprinkles."

Beat to a cream one cup of butter and two cups sugar. Add three tablespoons sweet milk and two tablespoons caraway or anise seed. Sift two cups flour and two even teaspoons baking powder, one-fourth a teaspoon salt, one-half a teaspoon nutmeg and one-eighth a teaspoon each of cloves, mace and nutmeg; with these mix the grated rind of an orange and one-fourth a cup of fine-chopped orange. Break one egg and the yolk or white of another into the mixture, add also a seasoning of vanilla extract and mix this well to a stiff dough. With buttered hands roll the mixture into balls about the size of hickory nuts, dip one side in granulated sugar and set some distance apart in buttered pans the sugared side up. Bake in a quick oven. The recipe makes 18 macaroons.

Carolyn Custard Pie.

Line a deep crockery plate with lady fingers or any stale cake. Pour over this a few tablespoons of cream or any good cream and cover with a thin layer of custard made of the yolks of two eggs, one-half cup white sugar, and chicken with corn starch till quite thick. Upon this place pecan nut meats—these are preferred, as they are less likely to have an oily taste. Make a meringue of the whites, stiffly beaten, and sweetened. Brown in oven and serve cold with whipped cream.

FOR BLANQUETTE OF VEAL.

Appetizing Dainty That Depends Much on the Flavoring.

Have three pounds of the best end of a breast of veal; wipe the surface with a damp cloth and cut the meat into pieces two inches square; add water just to cover the veal; also a carrot, scraped and cut in quarters, two onions, peeled and tied in a bit of cheesecloth with a sprig of thyme and two sprigs of parsley, two cloves and a bit of bay leaf; cover and let simmer until the veal is tender (about an hour and a half) strain off the broth, dice the vegetables, and keep the veal hot. Make three tablespoonsful of flour; cook it in three tablespoonsful of fat with a little salt and pepper, then add the broth and stir until the sauce boils. Beat the yolks of two eggs; dilute with half a cup of cream and add into the sauce; let cook, without boiling, stirring constantly until all is very hot, then stir in the juice of half a lemon and pour the sauce over the veal. Serve at once.

TRY THIS FOR DESSERT.

Cocoa Macaroons Will Be Appreciated
by All Who Partake.

Pass through a sieve together, one cup of sifted flour, half a cup of granulated sugar, two level tablespoons of cocoa, half a teaspoonful of baking powder, one-fourth a teaspoonful of salt, one-half a cup of milk, and two eggs. Sift together three times, then add one-half a cup of cream and milk mixture. If the batter is not as stiff as you can beat it, add a little more flour and turn out on a floured board. Dredge lightly with flour, and roll out until almost as thin as a wafer. Cut into round or oblong cakes, sprinkle with seeds and bake.

To Clean Silk Gloves.

Do not try to clean silk gloves with gasoline, but wash them very carefully. White and black ones can be washed in soap suds, rinsed and dried, the same as any other laundry. Use water to give them a clear white appearance. Tinted gloves should first be soaked in salt water to prevent the color from fading. If a few drops of lemon juice are added to the rinsing water, the tint will be revived. Silk gloves can be ironed, though a piece of linen should be placed over the gloves when they are ironed and only a moderately warm iron should be used. Silk hose can be washed in exactly the same manner and ironed when perfectly dry.

Lace Trimmed for Demitasse.
